Mrs. Burns Simpson and children and Miss Mabel Shannon are visiting relatives in Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. F. A. Laney, the molasses maker of Buford, reports that up till Tuesday, the 24th, he had made 4837 gallons of molasses, and expects to make some more yet.

Messrs. S. R. and H. G. Doster have opened a strictly cash grocery store in the corner building next to the postoffice.

Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Allen have as their guests this week Miss Sarah Allen of Raleigh, sister of Prof. Allen, and Miss Katharine Ellington of Reidsville sister of Mrs. Allen.

Mr. J. Curtis Parker, assistant cashier of the Bank of Pageland, and Miss Florida Propst of Seneca, S. C., were married Wednesday at the home of the bride. Mrs. Parker formerly taught music in Pageland.

There will be services morning and evening at the Episcopal church next Sunday. Mr. T. P. Dillon will conduct the morning services, while the pastor, Rev. T. L. Trott, will preach in the evening. His subject will be: "Forgiveness of Sin."

Every Thursday Cotton Weigher Winchester takes the samples from fifty bales of cotton weighed that day and sends them to the office of the U. S. department of agriculture operating at Raleigh to be used in the work of establishing scientific grading.

A seedy-looking fellow, evidently a tramp or a hobo, went around to Stack's cotton office the other day and asked what cotton was bringing. "Nineteen cents," said Mr. T. W. Huey "have you got any to sell?" "No," said the man, "but at that price I think I'll steal a bale."

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parker and children, who moved from Lanes Creek township to Georgia nearly eleven years ago, are spending a couple of weeks with relatives in Chesterfield and Union counties. Mr. Parker is a son of Esq. and Mrs. B. F. Parker of Lanes Creek township. Mr. Parker says that the boll weevil is now within 50 miles of Douglas, his home.

Of course The Journal made a mistake in the last issue in saying that Mr. Bickett would be the first native of Monroe to hold high office in State of nation. Because we were thinking of elective offices the fact that Dr. D. F. Houston, secretary of agriculture in President Wilson's cabinet, is a native of Monroe was overlooked at the time. Dr. Houston was born in the building which is now the Gloucester Hotel.

The beautiful Billie Burke who has been charming Monroe theatre audiences is now the mamma of a little girl who arrived at the home in New York Monday. Miss Billie's real name is Mrs. Florence Zeigfeld and her husband is a theatrical manager. She is thinking of naming the little girl "Gloria" after the heroine in the play in which she acted last, and which has been running here sometime.

Squire Ellis B. Pusser returned from Charlotte today where he had been to see his daughter, Miss Taleta Pusser, who was hurt in a collision on the Morgan Mill road Sunday a week ago. She and two friends were riding in a buggy and a man on a motorcycle from Baden ran into them. They were all thrown out and both bones in Miss Pusser's ankle were broken. She was hurried to a hospital in Charlotte for treatment and is now getting along very well.

The Union Drug Company is taking a straw vote on the presidential election. Every one who goes in the store is allowed to express his preference for Wilson or Hughes. Each day the result is sent in to the headquarters and the total vote all over the United States will be announced some time previous to the election. An article elsewhere in the paper explains more fully the scope of the voting.

The negotiations which were pending between the Houston-Lee Realty Company and the Chamber of Commerce regarding the erection of a hotel on the former's "burnt corner" lot, have been broken off. Messrs. J. H. Lee and C. E. Houston, stockholders in the company, told The Journal this morning that the company expects to begin a building on this lot at once. They did not state what the character of the building would be, but said that they hoped to be ready to make a full announcement in time for the issues of The Journal next Tuesday.

John Marsh is a happy darkey these days. Yesterday he came to town with four bales of cotton that brought over nineteen cents. He has about fifteen more bales that will soon be ready for the market, and if the price keeps up, he'll get a nice rake-off. John owns over three hundred acres of land, and is a well-liked, industrious darkey. He will not have to patronize the time-merchant this year, as he has raised plenty of wheat, potatoes, corn and meat. He has just recently bought another little tract of land, and he will probably be in shape to raise a hundred bales of cotton next year. He lives in Goose Creek township, about six and one-half miles from here.

A large number of Presbyterians are attending the Elders' and Deacons' meeting at Altan today. Automobile loads from Charlotte, Waxhaw and other points came through town at various intervals.

Mr. W. Murry Linker, a traffic policeman of Salisbury, was run over and killed at the entrance to the fair grounds yesterday. Mr. Linker was an acquaintance of Mr. A. M. Bassinger of Monroe.

There will be a Hallowe'en party at the Tabernacle school house in Lancaster county on Saturday night, Oct. 28. Refreshments will be served and there will be plenty amusement. Admission 15 cents.

Miss Mae Holman, daughter of Motorman Isaac A. Holman of Charlotte was killed by the discharge of a pistol in the hands of her little brother, aged twelve, who was playing with the pistol at the home yesterday afternoon. Miss Holman was 19 years old and the pistol was "unloaded."

Dr. G. B. Bernheim, a former pastor of the Lutheran church of Monroe, died at his home in Charlotte Tuesday night. Dr. Bernheim was a native of Prussia but spent nearly all his long life of 83 years in America. He was a learned and lovable man. Mr. T. L. Crowell says that Dr. Bernheim was instrumental in the erection of more churches in the south than possibly any other man.

Mr. Blair Seerest, who lives four miles north of here, thinks automobiles will bankrupt the country before long. He says that many good farmers, just as soon as they get a few hundred dollars ahead, will invest it in an automobile. Then the expense starts, for it is costly to keep up a machine. Mr. Seerest believes in traveling the old way, and depositing the surplus in the bank for a rainy day.

Mr. Alfred Funderburk says that many people are not observing the bird law at all, but are already shooting partridges right along. There is but thirty days in which partridges may be killed lawfully in this county. That is between the fifteenth of December and the fifteenth of January. There is no way for the law to be enforced except for the people who know of its violation to indict the ones who violate it. Only that will stop the violators.

Mr. Z. V. Murphrey of Stateville has bought the Monroe Coca Cola plant and assumed the management. He has already moved his family to Monroe and they are occupying Mr. Copple's house on Church street. Mr. Murphrey is a man of much experience and success in his line of business and will be a valuable addition to the business life of Monroe. Monroe people will be glad to learn that Mr. F. N. Snyder, the former manager of the company, and family, do not expect to leave the county, though their plans have not yet been completed.

The Rex Theatre has decided to show features every day in the future instead of occasional ones as has been the case in the past. Monday will be Metro day; Paramount day on Tuesdays and Thursdays; Billie Burks and Beatrice Fairfax on Friday; Bluebird on Wednesday; while Charlie Chaplin will be wedged in occasionally. Another noted star to be seen at the Rex in a short time is Geraldine Farrar, who will play the star role in "Carmen." If possible, Chaplin's burlesque on "Carmen" will also be shown. Some of the other stars that will be seen regular at the Rex, are: Francis X. Bushman, Beverly Bayne, Madam Petrova, Dustin Farnum, Mae Murray, Mary Miles Minter, Grace Darling, Harry Fox, Mary Pickford and many others.

MARRIAGE OF MISS
NANCE AND MR. BOGGAN

Popular and Pretty Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Nance Became the Bride on Anson Man Wednesday Evening.

At eight o'clock Wednesday evening Miss Elizabeth Beulah Nance, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Nance, became the bride of Mr. William Raymond Boggan of Pee Dee, Anson county. The ceremony, in which Rev. L. McB. White was the officiating minister, took place at the family home on east Houston street, which was suitably decorated for the occasion. A large number of relatives and friends were present to witness the happy occasion.

The guests were assembled in the parlor and the bride and groom met in the hall, the bride having come down the stairway preceded by her sister, Miss Pearl Nance, maid of honor. The ribbon girls were little Sara Ashcraft and Ellie Howard Hudson and the flower girls little Mary Steele Norwood and Mary Lyle Patton. The ring bearer was Elizabeth Griffin. The party entered the parlor to the music of Mendelssohn rendered by Mrs. L. McB. White. The bride was dressed in white satin and carried roses and ferns. The maid of honor wore yellow massaline and carried pink carnations and ferns. The ceremony took place under an arch of evergreen and flowers.

Refreshments were enjoyed by the guests and an hour of pleasant conversation and congratulations was enjoyed before the bride and groom left by automobile with their destination unannounced. A large number of beautiful and useful presents were received.

Mrs. Boggan has been one of Monroe's most popular and lovable young ladies. She is well educated and possesses all the graces that contribute to the charm of womanhood. Mr. Boggan is postmaster and merchant at Pee Dee, and a young man of fine character and bright prospects. They will be at home in Pee Dee after next Monday.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thomas of Weddington, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas of Marshville, Mrs. Carl Bailey, Mrs. George Simpson of Marshville, Messrs. H. M. Boggan, Clayton Boggan, Walter Boggan and Miss Lillie Boggan, Mr. John DeBerrey of Pee Dee, and Mr. Stewart of Blawett Falls.
